Prequel's taking the planet House of the Dragon, HBO's follow-up to the megahit Game of Thrones, has cast its first actor: Paddy Considine (The Third Day) stars as Viserys's Targaryen. Here's information about the hugely anticipated series: IT'S BASED ON GEORGE R.R. MARTIN'S 2018 NOVEL FIRE & BLOOD Set 300 years before the events of Thrones, the tome tells the tale of House Targaryen—yes, Queen Daenerys (Emilia Clarke, left) dragon-riding ancestor! THE KING MAY BE IN DANGER Wise, peace-loving Viserys Targaryen—not to be confused with his namesake, Dany's cruel brother—is chosen by the lords of Westeros to succeed his grandfather, Jaehaerys Targaryen, at the Great Council of Harrenhal, a collection of lords, Viserys is a benevolent and honorable man (shades of Thrones' ill-fated Ned Stark—we're afraid of him already!). LOTS OF THRONES... PBS MASTERPIECE CELEBRATES 50 YEARS with a November 29 retrospective special featuring clips from some of its most popular British hits, such as sweeping period pieces and addictive, character-driven dramas like The Jewel in the Crown and Downton Abbey. And with a slate of recurring favorites (Grantchester!) and long-awaited new offerings (Maggie Murders!), the next era begins strongly. Executive producer Susanne Simpson, about to complete her first year in Masterpiece's top post, previews 2021. What are you most looking forward to? We are probably most excited about all the creatures big and small [premiering January 10 and with the late Diana Rigg in her last role], which is a new adaptation based on James Herriot's books about a young vet [in 1930s Yorkshire]. It's very heartwarming, community-based, softly romantic. It's a great show... GGG GIGG Blue Bloods alum Amy Carlson and former Lost star Terry O'Quinn join CBS's FBI: Most Wanted in recurring roles. She will play a bounty hunter, he is Jess (Julian McMahon) gambling dad. Kate Mulgrew is boldly going to the Nickelodeon animated series Star Trek: Prodigy. She will reprise her Star Trek: Voyager role, Captain Kathryn Janeway, on the show, due next year. Mother-daughter duo Andie Mac-Dowell and Margaret Qualley will appear in Netflix drama Maid, based on the memoir Maid: Hard Work, Low Pay, and a Mother's Will to Survive. Qualley plays a single mother who works to make ends meet, and MacDowell is her eccentric parent. Shawshank Redemption star Morgan Freeman will host and executive produce History's Six-Episode Great Escapes With Morgan Freeman, with infamous prison breaks. GGGGGGGG Despite being picked up for the season ... When can I expect to receive the paper? Why aren't my local area networks or local channel numbers included? The Channel Guide serves other cities within your time zone that have different channel setups and local broadcast networks. We have to take them all. Your local networks have been replaced with national broadcast flows. What that means is that instead of programming lists for local networks like WJLA-ABC7, WPXI or CBS5, the publication lists the national feeds of ABC, NBC, CBS, etc. It's important to note that prime-time programming is the same no matter where you live (everyone sees Grey's Anatomy on ABC Thursdays at 9pm ET/PT), but daytime programming can vary from market to market because local broadcasters can choose which programming they will air during the afternoon. You can use your on-screen programming guide or visit www.channelguidemag.com afternoon lists. I miss pages in the late hours? Your publication lists publication lists from 8 a.m. to midnight on weekdays and 24 hours on weekends. If you are looking for late programming Monday through Friday, print subscribers can download our extended digital edition that has 24-hour programming by signing up for our VIP program on Why are there networks listed that are not available to me? Some networks are only available with a digital cable subscription — such as H2, Bio Channel, Hallmark Movie Channel, and LMN — and other networks require a premium subscription — such as HBO, Showtime, Cinemax, and Starz. Double-check with your cable or satellite provider if you're unsure if your package contains a network or not. How do you determine which networks are listed? There are many factors we consider when determining which networks are listed in the paper. First, we look at the National Cable Television Association's research on top cable networks, especially its ranking of which networks reach most homes. Then we look at the complexity of the programming content offered on a network. For example, movie networks take precedence over networks such as C-SPAN, which has little or no time-specific or title-specific programming. We also prefer to list networks that can provide monthly schedules versus weekly schedules — this is of course to ensure that we can offer you accurate, up-to-date programming information. I have an HD TV — where can I find programming in HD? Today almost all of programming airing on cable and broadcast networks is available in HD (high definition). Most cable and satellite providers require you to have an HD receiver to watch programming in HD. Please keep in mind that just because you have an HDTV doesn't necessarily mean you're watching a show in HD. You must watch HD content on a network's specific HD channel. For example, Time Warner Cable broadcasts ABC on Channel 12 in standard definition, and on Channel 1012 in HD. Most cable operators also have a feature on their remote control where if you press select the key a drop-down menu will appear and you can select Watch in HD. If you select Watch in HD, you'll be instantly accessed by that network's HD channel. FAQ: Special section For customers who used to receive channel guide through their cable companies Why is channel guide no longer offered through my cable provider? In some areas, cable operators have stopped offering a custom edition of Channel Guide as part of their product offerings. These custom releases were designed to match your cable channel lineup and were billed monthly as part of your cable bill. Fortunately, as the publisher of both custom editions and time zone specific releases, NTVB Media can continue to serve your needs with our regular version of Channel Guide Magazine. Just click here to continue your subscription. Is the time zone specific edition of Channel Guide different from my current magazine? Our time zone-specific edition is very similar to your custom publication only you won't have any ads from your cable operator included in it. You'll still get the same daily programming lists for over 120 cable networks, your local channel setup, and the most comprehensive episode of the A-Z movie description with over 3,000 movie choices each month, plus sports listings, special offers, editorial features, and more. Can I sign up to get the Channel Guide through you here? Sure. If your cable provider no longer offers Channel Guide, go to subscribe and we'll start sending you channel guide as soon as your subscription from your cable provider has ended. Ended.
